STAR GARNETS: THE IDAHO STATE GEM STONE

Idaho and India are the only two places in the world where star garnets are found. The 12-sided (dodecahedron) crystals range in size from sand particles to golf balls or larger and often have four or six-ray stars. Gem-quality faceting material is also found.

THE PROCESS

Visitors take garnet-bearing gravels from a stockpile to a sifting area. Once the material is sifted, visitors use one of the two sluices where they wash and screen the gravels for garnets. While visitors no longer “dig” for garnets, the new method will still allow people to enjoy the thrill of discovery.

All of the equipment is now provided so you do not have to bring your own and pack it up the gulch.

HOW DO I GET A PERMIT?

Permits available at the site cost $10 for adults and $5 for children age 6-12. The permit is valid for one day and includes equipment. Permits are required for anyone washing or screening gravels.

You may still take up to five pounds of garnet with your daily permit. If you want to remove more garnet during the same day, you can buy another permit for each additional five pounds or fraction thereof. You are limited to six permits per year.
